

Victoire Press

The story

Having used solutions from Pegasus Software for 25 years, Victoire Press upgraded to Opera 3 with Payroll & HR for a number of reasons. The first was to ensure compliance with auto enrolment legislation, as the company approaches its staging date this year. And the second was to take advantage of new Payroll functionality which automates key HR processes, enabling the HR department to focus on other strategic priorities for the business.

In addition, the team needed a solution which enhanced reporting options across the business, presenting timely, accurate information, to the right people, in an accessible format.

"You can't underestimate the importance of having easy access to accurate business data, financial or otherwise" comments Clare Elliott, Director, Victoire Press. "Opera 3 ensures we're all singing from the same song sheet, producing reports that are relevant and tailored to the specific needs of particular departments or members of staff. It's intuitive, user-friendly and cost-effective, with the ability to evolve alongside the business, something that's vital when you're operating in the often volatile print industry."

We've always received excellent service from Pegasus Partner, Applied Business Computers, and having already benefitted from increased visibility and control across all areas of the business, we're confident that upgrading to Opera 3 was the right decision all round."
